

ISN'T WELL-BEING KEY TO PRODUCTIVITY?

WITH BRITA PROFESSIONAL.

Enhance your employees' productivity by providing them with refreshing water.

THINK YOUR WATER

YOU AND YOUR EMPLOYEES DESERVE THE BEST WATER.

FRESH WATER INCREASES PRODUCTIVITY.

Water is key to productivity. To feel and be at their best, people should drink two litres of water every day.

Pre-filled bottles are the typical means of providing water of the right quality and taste. Typically, employees either buy and bring bottled water themselves, or the company organises their supply, the logistics and the storage. Both scenarios, however, are time-consuming and costly. At two litres of water per person every day, each employee ends up carrying around 10 litres of water – weighing 15 kilograms – from the supermarket to the office every week. Even if the office has only five members of staff, this adds up to around 75 kilograms a week.

And yet we already have water of the highest quality coming out of our taps. Drinking water is the most highly controlled foodstuff – guaranteed by regional water suppliers. But what's missing is the technologies, including filtration at the point-of-use, cooling and carbonisation, to ensure a great taste.

TAP WATER FROM YOUR OWN SPRING.

BRITA Professional water dispensers resolve this issue. You, your employees and visitors will then enjoy filtered, fresh water straight from the central supply – wherever and however you want.

YOUR ADVANTAGE IN DRINKING WATER SUPPLY.

Tap into cost savings.

Buying, transporting and storing bottles and crates is a laborious, wasteful process. It consumes precious resources, and costs time and money – and it takes up valuable storage space. Moreover, they have to be delivered by lorry or van, and generate plastic waste. The combined result is a bigger ecological footprint.

Improve productivity and satisfaction.

Employee satisfaction plays a critical role in maintaining productivity. Simply having water constantly available encourages us to drink more of it – and staff, customers and visitors will all appreciate this practical form of refreshment.
